

HOUSTONIANS CELEBRATE MOST WONDERFUL TIME OF THE YEAR AT THE 21st ANNUAL UPTOWN HOLIDAY LIGHTING

Families gather for a feast of holiday music, lights, fireworks, a parade and a jolly appearance by Santa Claus

HOUSTON (October 2006) – On Thanksgiving evening, November 23rd, the 21st Annual Uptown Holiday Lighting celebration will feature more than a half-million twinkling lights, festive holiday music, a dazzling fireworks extravaganza and a special appearance by Santa Claus.

This fun family event will take place in Uptown Houston on Post Oak Boulevard between San Felipe and Westheimer starting at 4 p.m. Traditional holiday music will delight audiences while the sparkling Electric Light Parade will light up the streets with a collection of holiday-themed floats and characters.

“Uptown Holiday Lighting has truly become an annual family tradition for residents throughout the greater Houston area,” said John Breeding, Uptown Houston District president. “People look forward to this event each year because it brings the joy of the holiday season to their hometown in a fun and entertaining way.”

Uptown Holiday Lighting is free and open to the public. Thousands of Houstonians and out-of-town guests will join together to enjoy this magical evening that is sure to stir up the holiday spirit.
